Me and Mike.

We Grenada folks are getting lots of attention from the politicians; the next governor Tuesday night; Tom Bailey two times next Wednesday and Dennis on Friday week.

These colored soldiers who have been acting up around Duck Hill must surely have some officer or officers who are giving tacit consent, if not active aid. Southern white officers, accustomed to colored men, should command colored troops, if they are to stay in the South. The people of the little town of Duck Hill were under a state of siege Monday night, beginning promptly at midnight. Something MUST be done about this condition before it gets worse. It CAN happen HERE.

It is Grandpa and Grandma Frank Jones now.

Sorry to hear that Aunt Ellis Terrell, grand old lady, is sorter under the weather.

We approached Ed McCormick, Charlie Worsham and Butch McKnight last week about putting in an advertisement for opponents for them. They would not stand for it at all. However, since the deadline has passed, we are advertising this week for some opponents for them.

I am for the following for county offices: Ed McCormick, Charlie Worsham, Butch McKnight and Any Linker, leading candidate for State Highway Commissioner, was in Grenada recently passing out cards, but no extravagant promises. The folks who have to travel No. 7 Highway between here and Greenwood are sore as hell about that Cain Creek bridge being still down and out, and necessitating a six mile detour through the hills. He DID do something about the bridge, tho, as is characteristic of him, he is making no promises about it now.

A somewhat weathered, middle-aged man of the evening just dropped in looking for a room.

Howdydo Adams is not a trust-breaker, but a try-breaker. If you know what I mean.

Hoover Williams, having retired and leased his theaters to Bert Bays, is now doing hunting and resting—as he should be doing. I hope Dr. Sharp prescribes that he let politics alone, for politics is (are) mighty bad on the nervous system.

Get those absent ballots from Charlie Worsham and send them air mail to the soldiers.

Thanks to Sgt. Max Behm for an autographed copy of the song, "We Never Crack," composed by himself, which song is the 57th Division's march song.

I like Tom Abernethy for many reasons, but principally because he is up-to-date. He is the only politician who has ever, by word or deed, indicated that he appreciated anything that I tried to do for him, whether I did anything or not.

Dear McKell: If those other fellows will not write you, I will. If you miss us, you are missed from the Board of Directors very, very much. Personally, I think it was most patriotic of you—who have three exemptions—to get in to the fight. I mean that.

I am sure that the news that Charlie Worsham, formerly with Doak's, is dead will come to his many friends here not only with surprise but with sorrow.

Question to postal inspectors: how can Bob Brown flood the state with free copies of the Summer Sentinel to non-subscribers when postal law limits the free copies to ten percent of the actual paid up subscription list?

Well, it is CAPTAIN Grimes now. Congratulations to the Camp Adjutant.

Lt. Col. Louis Wise seems a bit happier now as his wife and son are with him.

Some of these bare legs look right good through my bifocals.

This is the 4th of July, the day we were freed from the British. It will be a happy day when this country is freed from the New Deal.

Get those absentee ballots off to the boys IMMEDIATELY.

Grenada Boys Receive Training

Summer School work for the following boys isn't over. Their induction will mean only entering into more serious study and development, and this time, in the Armed Forces of our country.

This past week diplomas were given to two boys, Joe McKell, son of Mr. and Mrs. McKell, who reside on Cherry Street, has completed a four year course in three years, including summer school courses. He left for Tulane University where he will receive special training as a Naval reserve.

Terry Mack Clouston, son of Mrs. Clouston, received his diploma this and is a report to Camp Shelby, Miss.

Bennie Moore and Jay Gore, honor students of 1942 class, have reported to Mississippi College at Clinton, B-12 Navy Reserve. They started their training the last part of June.

Hon. Dennis Murphree To Speak Here Next Friday

Hon. Dennis Murphree, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Mississippi and for the third time a candidate for the office of Governor will speak in the public square of Grenada next Friday, June 10th at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Murphree is the only man in the history of Mississippi who has served three times as lieutenant governor. He began his political career as Representative from his native county, Calhoun, where he and his brother, Mr. Stanley Murphree, still own the county newspaper which their father established.

Mr. Murphree served out the unexpired term of Governor Henry Whitefield and during the administration of the present Governor, Judge Johnson, who is in ill health, has often served as Mississippi's chief executive.

He will receive a courteous hearing in Grenada county goes without saying.

The date: June 10; the hour: 3 p. m.; the place: the public square in Grenada.

Extensive Grenada FFHA Project Bids Opened July 14

Two biling and building over the state during the week was calling of proposals for six new factory-fabricated and masonry war housing projects for Grenada by the Federal Public Housing Authority in Atlanta, Georgia.

In the project will be 192 dormitory units and 200 factory-fabricated dwelling units, together with an administration building, a cafeteria, community building, laundry, morale activities building, and a paint shop and 60 dormitory units and 180 factory-fabricated, with other buildings. Altogether there are six bids to be taken, for 341 dormitory and 1,000 other units.

The building will be located near Camp McCain and the Army Air Base to the north and to the south of town.

Date set for opening of bids is July 14th.

NO FLAGS ON THE FOURTH

For the first time in many years, no flags were flown from staffs stuck in holes in the sidewalks of the business section.

Harr. Greenfield stated that he had put up and taken in the flags for about 20 years without assistance, and that he was tired of the thankless and helpless job.

Something Must Be Done

It is reliably reported that a number of negro soldiers "shot up" Duck Hill Monday night. Just recently about nine negro soldiers raped a white woman near Duck Hill, holding the white soldier who was with her at the point of a gun while the other negro soldiers, in turn, committed the crime.

NOW SOMETHING HAS GOT TO BE DONE ABOUT SUCH OCCURENCES. The best thing to do is send all ALL negro soldiers away; the next best thing to do is send all NORTHERN negro soldiers away; and the third best thing to do is place ALL negro soldiers under the command of SOUTHERN white officers.

By all means, whatever is necessary to accomplish that end, NO SOLDIER should be permitted to leave camp with arms, even if searching EVERY soldier, white or colored, might entail a good deal of delay.

Great Opportunities

Opportunities for travel and interesting war work are available to men who have had experience in shipping, trading, or exploration in the South Pacific Area, New Caledonia.

For further information contact Major H. B. Cushman at the Grenada Army Air Base or write to the Director, Intelligence Division, Fourth Service Command, Atlanta 3, Georgia.

The soldiers of this war (including, of course, other men and women wearing the uniform) are going to run this country after peace comes, and they can not make a worse mess of the country than their predecessors have. If the New Dealers have away much longer the Indians should get the country back.

Formal Announcement Of Mr. Clifton A. Martin

To the Voters of Beat Five.

I am a farmer as most all of you know. I own 450 acres of hill and creek bottom land in Grenada county. I have had the hard road to travel, but by hard work and efficient management, I have come through so far. I promise all I will exercise the Beat's business affairs as with as much attention as I do my farm, with strict economy, always planning the best for the people in the Beat. I promise I won't have any special privileges to anyone. All white people in my jurisdiction to be treated alike. I feel like I have had sufficient experience to handle the District's business properly and efficiently for all concerned.

We have good roads that were built by the Federal Government as you all know. The money was available for the county. I am glad we have made use of it. But hope to not have to use that means any more. We want something different. If ever we have another depression like what we have had through the local government as well as the federal government will have to rehabilitate the soldiers and war workers after the close of the war. I promise to be prepared for it when the time comes, for all soldiers will be entitled to the best we can give.

Remember you remember me on August 3rd with your support. As ever, Clifton A. Martin.

Hon. Mike Conner Speaks at Court House

Former Governor Mike Conner brought his whirlwind campaign to Grenada County Tuesday night as he spoke to a large number of voters. He was introduced by W. W. Whitaker, who presented state and district candidates for brief announcements.

Speaking exactly one hour, the former governor reviewed his record as governor from 1932 to 1936; discussed problems facing the state and nation at this time and offered as the solution, the election of honest and efficient men to guide the state in the four uncertain years ahead.

"The next governor of Mississippi must have the courage and ability to defend the sovereignty of our state and the ideals of our white civilization," Conner said. "He must know how to cooperate with the governors and other leaders of those states whose people will fight for states' rights, democracy, and white supremacy. I am acquainted with the conditions in these Southern states. No other candidate in this race has had these experiences, contacts, and opportunities, which should be of great assistance to the next governor of Mississippi."

Asserting that everyone should back the war effort and the President wholeheartedly, the former governor pledged his best efforts toward winning the war, the peace, and honest, efficient administration of the state's affairs during the reconstruction period, if he is elected.

Inasmuch as we are running short-handed, just like the rest of the business world, we are asking cooperation of our friends and customers; notice your expiration date, which is a weekly reminder of your subscription status; get your news items in AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE—do not wait until Thursday, for we probably will not accept them then; the "deadline" on ads is Wednesday noon; anticipate your needs for printed matter—do not let your supply get down to the last sheet or the last envelope. Ordinarily, we will have to do job work on Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays. In case of extraordinary need, we will TRY to do printing of SMALL jobs at other times. Your cooperation is sincerely solicited, for we want to give just as good service as our ability will permit. We had to omit over half a page of ads last week. We could have run them and been that less poorer, but, first and last, we are a newspaper, trying as best we can to give our readers a treat.

Mrs. Annie Highgate M'Donald Buried Here Last Saturday

Mrs. Annie McDonald died early Friday morning, July 2, 1942 in her home in Greenwood after a long illness.

She was in her early eighties and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Highgate, who were among the original Scotch settlers of Grenada. She was educated here, and was first married to the late Mr. Green Dubard, later to Mr. John McDonald, of Atlanta, Georgia. Most of her life was spent in Greenwood, Grenada and Atlanta. One child, Major Walter Dubard, came to the first union; none to the other. Like all members of her family she was a staunch Presbyterian.

Funeral services were conducted in Greenwood, by the Presbyterian pastor, Dr. James Marion, Services at the graveside in Odd Fellows cemetery in Grenada were conducted by Rev. C. A. Pharr, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church.

One son, Major Walter Dubard, of Greenwood, survives her. A brother, Mr. John Highgate, of Memphis, is the last of a large family of children born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Highgate.

The Wright boys, only one of whom, William D., lives now in Grenada, and Mr. Keene Hufington, of Grenada are her nephews.

The sympathy of the GCW is extended to the bereaved ones.

About ten years ago they moved to Duck Hill, where she spent her last days. She was a member of the Baptist Church and loved her church. Lambert, Grenada; Mrs. Reuben Calloway, Greenville; and Mrs. Everett Moore, Duck Hill; and six sons, Walter, of Duck Hill; John W. of Grenada; Thomas, of Camp McCain; Hugh, of Winona; Jewel, of Winona, and Clifford, of Memphis.

MISSISSIPPPIANS KNOW THE TRUTH

I'M VOTING FOR MIKE CONNER BECAUSE HE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PRESENT SOUND FINANCIAL CONDITION OF MISSISSIPPI. WHEN HE BECAME GOVERNOR IN 1932 THERE WAS ONLY $1326 IN THE STATE'S GENERAL FUND AND UNPAID WARRANTS AND APPROPRIATIONS TOTALED $7,486,760.

SURE MIKE IS AND WHEN HE LEFT OFFICE IN 1936 THOSE OLD DEBTS HAD BEEN PAID AND THERE WAS OVER $2,000,000 IN CASH IN THE STATE TREASURY. WHEN MIKE'S ELECTED GOVERNOR THIS TIME, FOLKS WILL KNOW THAT THE STATE'S LARGE CASH SURPLUS IS IN SAFE HANDS.

MIKE CONNER is the man who inaugurated the present system of budget control and the sound financial program that is responsible for the large cash surplus in the state treasury today. The two administrations since the Conner Administration have enjoyed the fruits of the sound financial program inaugurated while Mike Conner was Governor. Certainly Mississippians all recognize this fact and know that Mike Conner is the man for Mississippi in the four uncertain years ahead.

And Mississippians also know that:

Mike Conner recommended and his administration removed all taxes from the farmers' livestock.

Having Trouble Getting Help?

So are we. Like you, we're faced with the biggest production job in our history. And, like you, we've lost many of the men who used to help us.

Yet that's only part of the story. Every day, on farm and factory, there's something new to test the skill of those running the business. Not only getting help, but—mention a few others—rising costs, making a fair profit, and setting aside reserves for a rainy day. Essentially, those problems are the same for farm and factory, though they may at times differ in size.

But it is that thing called "management," that peculiarly American ability to think through problems no matter how tough, that is helping to see us through today.

It is this skill in management that farmers and businessmen have most in common, a skill which insures the realization of our determination to produce all that's needed for our country today, and tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to our fellow Americans. Coal Rationing Looms as FDR Asks 65 Induction Limit as Strike Curb; Allies' Mediterranean 'Guessing Game' Factor in Keeping Axis Off Balance

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

An American soldier in a Southwest Pacific outpost has a look-see at the interior of a shattered Jap vehicular water tank after the enemy had been driven off. The shell holes in the tank give the answer to its interior.

COAL: Draft for Strikers

Coal rationing for both industrial and domestic consumers loomed as Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes expressed doubt that production losses incurred by three strikes in less than two months could be made up.

Mr. Ickes had announced that he was preparing to "undertake active participation in the supervision of management and operation" of coal mines including possible changes in operating personnel.

Previously, President Roosevelt had warned coal miners and other workers in government-operated industries that those who walk out on strike in future would be inducted into the nation's armed forces. The President announced that he would ask congress for authority to draft men up to the age of 65 for non-combatant service.

In a statement bitterly denouncing the action of the United Mine Workers leadership as "intolerable," Mr. Roosevelt had declared that for the time being "mines would continue under operation of Fuel Administrator Ickes." The terms, he said, would be those laid down by the War Labor board.

FOOD: Czar After All?

Food had continued to hold the Washington limelight as the house agricultural committee had reported on a bill designed to take all food rationing and pricing powers from the Office of Price Administration and transfer them to War Food Administrator Chester C. Davis.

Congressional sentiment for creating a food "czar" had increased in spite of the opposition of President Roosevelt to such a measure. Dissatisfied over home front war operations, proponents of the new bill wanted to vest complete authority over food production, transportation, distribution, pricing and rationing of foods under Mr. Davis who hitherto has had charge only of production and distribution.

As congressional temperatures rose in debate over the proposals, reports of improved weather and crop conditions helped ease official tension over 1943 food production prospects. Particular improvements were reported in midwestern grain, livestock and dairy regions.

SMALL BUSINESS: Reserves for Peace

The National Association of Small Business men through its president, DeWitt Emery, urged congress to permit plants engaged in war contracts to set aside tax-free reserves for easing postwar transition back to peacetime production.

Unless such provisions are forthcoming, Emery told the house naval committee studying war contracts, "thousands of businesses will be shut down after the war, awaiting the whim of some bureaucrat" as to whether they can remain in business.

Emery suggested an allowable tax free reserve of 3 per cent of all sales up to $1,000,000 and recommended that reserves above that figure be scaled down to one-half of 1 per cent.

MEDITERRANEAN: Axis Kept Guessing

Two events in the eastern Mediterranean had given some observers support for their view that this theater would be the scene of decisive Allied military activity.

One event was the bombing for the first time by Allied fliers of the strategic Axis-held city of Salonika, Greece. The other was the evacuation by Italy of Castellorossa, easternmost island in the Dodecanese group, lying between Greece and Turkey. Strategists saw the possibilities inherent in an Allied move via Egypt and Syria on mainland Greece and the Balkans.

Meanwhile steady attention to the task of softening up Italy proper and its neighboring island satellites was given by the RAF and U. S. air forces.

One of the most spectacular Allied feats was the inauguration of "shuttle" bombing service. This was accomplished by British Lancasters which had bombed Friedrichshafen in Germany, flown on to African bases and returned home to England, blasting Italian naval bases at La Spezia along the way.

The tenseness of the Axis over impending Allied threats was reflected in the action of Italian secret police in arresting more than 11,000 persons in a search for possible collaborators.

GERMANY: Raids Devastating

While military strategists had debated whether aerial warfare could completely knock out the enemy, evidence of some of the results of Allied bombings were dramatically forthcoming in reports from the Ruhr valley area, where British and American airmen had dropped 10,000 tons of bombs within a month.

One report disclosed that Germany had ordered the evacuation of 3,000,000 nonessential civilians from the bomb-gutted Ruhr. Another revealed that the Nazis had massed more than 1,000 fighter planes in western Europe to combat the never-ending Allied raids and had mounted 30,000 anti-aircraft guns along a belt 200 miles long by 20 to 50 miles deep.

Under a new policy of fully publicizing air raid damage, German propaganda broadcasts said the Royal Air Force had "practically erased" the city of Krefeld on the western fringe of the Ruhr and had subjected the populations of both the Ruhr and the Rhineland to "unbelievable raids."

MARATHON: Yanks Hit Macassar

Forecasting what will be routine assignments in months to come, Liberator bombers made a 2,000-mile round trip raid from Australia to the Japanese air and sea bases at Macassar on Celebes island, where Allied airmen dropped 28 tons of bombs on enemy objectives, damaging shipping installations and hitting a Jap cruiser and merchantman.

The raid marked the first retaliation on the Japs in the Celebes sector since the enemy seized Macassar early in 1942 when the Nipponese seized the Dutch East Indies.

Who's News This Week

By Delos Wheeler Lovelace

Consolidated Features.—WNU Release.

NEW YORK. — Wollmar Filip Bostrom, Swedish minister to the United States, reached the retirement age of 65 the other day, but he is staying right on the job. With the topsy-turvy world all about and with plenty of things to worry about elsewhere, his foreign office decided that this was no time to call in a man who had made good on a job for 17 years. Besides to a nation ruled over by an 85-year-old king, 65 isn't a bit old, anyway.

Calvin Coolidge was in the White House and Frank B. Kellogg was secretary of state when the blue-eyed, ruddy cheeked envoy with the build of an athlete arrived from Stockholm in February of '26. At Upsala university in Sweden, where he was graduated in 1903, he had studied to be a lawyer, but he soon decided that the diplomatic service was his forte. He was sent first to the legation in Paris, but in 1907 King Gustav called him home to become his private secretary. In 1913 he went to the legation in London and was there during most of the last war. Just before coming to America, he was minister to Madrid.

At Upsala, he had been a top notch performer at both hockey and tennis. In 1908 he represented Sweden in the Olympic games. He first began playing tennis with King Gustav as far back as 1900 and not so many years ago he and his monarch won the doubles title in an "old boys" tournament. On his 60th birthday, his wife snapped a photograph of him when he was swinging upside down on the flying rings in a gymnasium.

THINGS are looking up for the Allies on the Pacific front. Take it from Sir Owen Dixon, Australian minister to the United States. He returned to Washington Under Heartened By a Visit Home day after a trip home and should know. He had been away from Australia for 11 months and was delighted in the changes for the better he noted in that time.

This tall, angular envoy from the underside of the world first took over his job here last year when Richard Casey moved on to the Middle East. He had had a distinguished career as a lawyer and a judge and had directed some of his commonwealth's top war boards—shipping control, wool, war risk insurance—before that.

Born in a suburb of Melbourne 57 years ago, he made a brilliant record at Melbourne university. He won his B.A. there in 1906 and his law degree two years later. His law practice mounted rapidly in size and importance, and he was rated as one of the outstanding attorneys in the dominion when he was elevated to a judgeship in the supreme court of Victoria in 1926. Three years later he became justice of the high court of the commonwealth.

With high forehead, keen eyes and graying hair, he looks every inch a man to hand down learned decisions. He has been addressed as Sir Owen for two years now. He is married and has four children, two boys and two girls.

LIST Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce among those who have great faith in what the Allied bombing raids will do to lick the Germans.

Hard-Hitting Vet and make Backs Air Bombs peace for a long time to come. Place To Soften Up Nazis him also among those who point out that there is no one-way street for air raiders. It's the latter thought, incidentally, which is his major concern at present, for he is now in command of the First Air Force of the U. S. army, and it's his job to protect the Atlantic coast from enemy planes.

There isn't much about air combat and flying that this athlete appearing, hard hitting veteran doesn't know, for he's been at it a long time. Since 1915, in fact. That was the year after he won his first commission at West Point. He flew for Pershing in the brush with Mexico in '16 and again in World War I. He came home from France with a Croix de Guerre and some staff experience at the general's headquarters.

His fame as a flier did not wane with the Armistice, however. In 1930, while at Selfridge Field in his native Michigan, he won the Mackey medal for leading a midwinter test flight of planes out to the Pacific coast and back. His ships froze up en route, but he borrowed a railway locomotive, hooked up a steam hose, and got them going again.

He has won the DSC and DFC in the present war. He gained the former by his spectacular raid on the Japs in the Philippines from a secret base in the islands in the spring of 1942.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Remember that stuffing expands when heated. Never pack it in too tightly. If it doesn't have room to expand, it will become soggy.

Always add a little melted butter to uncooked frosting. It improves the flavor and prevents cracking.

When browning sausages in a pan, to prevent excessive greasiness, pour off the fat as soon as it collects.

A drop-leaf table may save valuable space in a combined kitchen and dining room.

Never let colored clothes lie in a clothes basket or with other clothes. Handle them separately, and hang them to dry as soon as possible after they have been laundered.

Knitted washcloths are not always a good buy. They are likely to stretch out of shape, become limp and stringy. A firmly woven cloth, like that used for bath towels, usually is best.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The first privately owned tire company to be organized in this country was the Philadelphia and Lancaster Tires Co., incorporated in 1792. New York was the first state to charge an automobile registration fee to pay highway costs and in 1901 collected $954 in such fees.

In 1843 an English woman obtained a patent for a pavement material consisting, among other things, of "old rubber."

Eleven per cent of the tires of the 25,400 passenger cars on New Jersey turnpikes were found to be "bald" in a check made by Rutgers University.

ALLISON-WEIR

A wedding of prominence was the scene of a wedding of prominence when Miss Claire Weir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saxon Atchafine Weir, became the bride of Lt. Travis Allison, U. S. Air Corps, stationed at Grenada Air Base. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jones Allison, of Grenada. The vows were read by the rector, Rev. C. S. Liles in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends on Tuesday evening, July 6, at eight o'clock.

The church was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and ferns gracefully arranged in white wicker baskets, and the same lovely flowers were placed in the altar vases. White tapers glowed in stately floor candelabra placed in both the chancel and within the altar rail, casting a lovely soft light over the bridal group. Mr. Jones Allison served his brother as best man.

Lt. Hunt and Capt. Thomas of Grenada Air Base served as ushers. The services were attended also by the Commanding Officer, Lt. Col. John C. Bennett, Jr., of Grenada Air Base and his family.

Miss Virginia Echols presided at the organ, and Miss Sara Rainer, of Yazoo City, who is receptionist at the Air Base, sang. Her only solo was "Because." The traditional wedding procession and recessional marches were held.

The lovely young bride who was given in marriage by her father, was panned in a bridal model designed of white net over satin. The bodice was fashioned of satin and net, featuring a flattering neck line accented by a flat bow of satin and with tiny satin covered buttons from the neck line to the waist. She wore a mantilla of exquisite white lace which fitted her shoulders and hung to finger tip length. One point of the mantilla was held in her lovely brown hair by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a small, round bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbon.

The bride is a graduate of Grenada High School and attended Delta State College for three years, completing the course she planned.

Lt. Allison graduated at GHS and attended Miss. State College, enlisted in the Air Corps in April of 1942, receiving his training mainly in California and was later transferred to G. A. B. reaching home about a month ago.

Immediately after the wedding the bridal couple left for a brief honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece suit of black sheer with white accessories. Her corsage was formed of flowers from her bridal bouquet.

John H. Mitchell, Jr. (Johnny) left June 20th for San Diego. He is with the U. S. Marine Corps. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell of Grenada.

Mrs. Youngblood also visited her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Mrs. L. T. Phillips left Wednesday for Boston, Mass., where she will stay the remaining summer months. Before leaving, Mrs. Phillips was honored with several lovely affairs. Mrs. L. Col. Wade entertained Mrs. Phillips with a luncheon on Wednesday. The following day Mrs. P. H. Youngblood gave a bridge-salad affair for Mrs. Phillips. On Friday Mrs. H. C. Trusty entertained Mrs. Phillips with another delightful bridge-salad affair at her lovely home.

JOHN EDDIE STANFORD BURNS IN HIS STORE MONDAY

John Eddie Stanford, substantial merchant and land owner in the Red Grass neighborhood of District Two, was consumed in flames that made a total loss of his country store Monday. It seems that a coal oil lamp was overturned and, for some reason Stanford was unable to extricate himself from the burning building.

Alas they sweet.

WAAC's Are Dead, Long Live The WAC's

Word to the effect that President Roosevelt has just signed the bill establishing the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, as a definite part of the Army is welcome news to Camp McCain, Mississippi.

The Commanding Officer of Camp McCain, in commenting on the changes to be effected by this new legislation stated: "The name of the organization or acronym of the Army will now be known as Women's Army Corps, the WAC's will have equal right and benefits with Army personnel, including same nomenclature of rank, franking privileges, government insurance, and allotments."

The members of the WAC Detachment at Camp McCain have all expressed keen interest and joy over the fact that they are now members of an actual component of the Army. They have taken abode and performed their duties efficiently from the start and are a vital part of Camp McCain's Post Installation.

"We are highly honored for the confidence that President Roosevelt has placed in us," stated Lieutenant E. M. Ritchie, WAC Commander at Camp McCain. "For instance, one of our WAC's works at the difficult task of repairing and servicing weapons in the Post Ordnance Shop, at the Post Motor Pool Office a WAC handles the important task of dispatching and accounting for Army Motor vehicles at the Station Hospital, Post Signal Office supply Division and in Post Headquarters, our WAC's are assigned to vital jobs, and doing them well."

When asked to express his opinion of the work the WAC's were doing, Officer of Camp McCain replied, "The fleet of Camp McCain replied: 'The WAC's are doing a splendid job, are a very necessary part of this Command, and were they not assigned here the work they are accomplishing would necessarily have to be done by soldiers, thereby increasing the Army draft on the manpower of our Nation.'

ALABAMA REALTOR TO BUILD GRENADA HOMES: SEES SUB-DIVISION DEVELOPMENT IN STATE

J. M. Wainwright, of Birmingham, Ala., who has come to Mississippi to continue his work in the development of sub-divisions in Southern cities, has definite ideas about the possibilities offered by the state, during and after the war as voiced in an interview here.

The builder of privately financed homes to relieve housing congestion in Mississippi cities during wartime and provide individual homes after the war has lived in Birmingham for 20 years and has been engaged in general real estate and sub-division development business.

"Opportunity in Mississippi is unlimited," he said, "that is why I selected this beautiful state to expand my business in. We can help the war cause, develop the cities of the state, and promote our own business interests."

Emphasizing the number of individually financed private war homes which have been built under title VI of the FHA program, Wainwright said he and his associates build the homes along conventional lines with a view to making them permanent.

"In Savannah, Georgia, we have recently completed 380 homes of this type, in Birmingham we have built 60, and in Talladega, Alabama, we have finished 40 homes," he added.

We plan these sub-divisions with plans drawn by an architect, they are just as fine a home as any that can be built. They are located in communities where they will be used after the war, that is they will be absorbed by the natural growth of the community."

Mr. Wainwright said each home in the unit would be turned to a private owner after the war.

His first project for the state is located at Grenada where 45 to 50 private war homes will be built. The average sale price for these homes will be $4,750 to $5,100, he said. They must be occupied by war workers first, but then may pass to other owners after the war.

ALL IS CONFUSION

Warsaw, Mo.—This Ozark community just can't help its current bewilderment. Earl Bradshaw is taking his first vacation in 10 years.

Bradshaw, 50, is janitor of one church and two stores; custodian of the community building; caretaker, collector and scorekeeper at the softball park; public-address operator from community programs; mail carrier on a 32-mile mail route; post office messenger; deliveryman for two grocers; real estate and livestock dealer; and carpenter.

He said he'd spend his vacation operating a street car in Kansas City.

Willard O. Smith, of Kingsville, Texas, has spoken for another six months treatment of the GOW, as the preceding treatments seemed to help him.

Cousin Arthur Williams, farmer, merchant and capitalist, of Holcomb, was recently a business visitor to the county capital.

What with all his other troubles in keeping the streets clean, now McCune Talbert has the watermelon rinds.

Staff Sgt. Pete Porry, who must have got cut off in the shuffle, has been reinstated.

"Sleepy-time down South" is a thing of the past, as Dixie's front-line industries come into additional money. The Smoky War Plants Corporation earmarked for them over a million and a half dollars in loans and lease-machinery. Meanwhile, NHA reported that nearly 90 thousand war workers are expected to migrate southward during the next year. Things are swinging into line now for Dixie's all-out production drive against the Axis.

Get out the red ink for this item, however—roughly 33 percent of southern sawmills are standing idle because of log, manpower and equipment shortage.

SPUDS This year's belated potato crop is finally on the road—literally thousands of carloads have been shipped out of North Carolina in the past week. Southland markets received their share, and it looks as if the potato famine is over.

OPA trimmed about ten percent off the maximum prices of meat last week—all except cured and processed pork. This means an average reduction of 3 cents per pound, and should ease the strain on many American pocket-books.

HOME ON THE RANGE They're branding a certain type of automobile tire now, marking them with an "O", which means that they are unfit for recapping but can be made serviceable for limited emergency use. Close to a million of these tires will be thrown in with the present recapped supply—those available for rationing to low-mileage drivers. The brand goes into sidewall of these so-called "emergency" tires, which are put out by the Defense Supplies Corporation.

The man behind the plow gets a break too. More than 50 hard-to-find farming items will be set aside in specific quantities for food production. A further move to keep food under Dixie's belt is a program for making lumber more easily available for essential farm repair and construction.

FALSE TEETH SHORTAGE

War plays no favorites when it comes to shortage. The latest one shows up in the false teeth industry. In an attempt to keep artificial molars where they're needed, OPA has authorized its regional administrators to make price ceiling adjustments where necessary.

Military insignia loses its copper content, rules WFB. This war-vital metal can do more damage to the Axis when used in shell-cases from MONEY FROM OVERSEAS does a lot toward keeping the home fires burning. A good bit of his money goes into family allowances and voluntary allotments of pay. More than 20 million of these checks have been mailed to the families of Army men in a single year.

Figures say that Johnny Dougherty

Today's Travels

TO KNOW the highways of the nation has long been the business of our Travel Bureau. To chart the roads on legible maps, to classify them as to surface and character, to spot the sections where construction or other obstacles block traffic—and to tell all who may inquire—these are the full-time specialty of Kyso Motor Travel Bureau.

Designed to function in peace time, it has been wholly converted to a war time basis. Pleasure trips are "out" for the duration, but many highways are very busy, nevertheless. Officers and men are hastening to camps, or moving from camp to camp, or "heading for home" on leaves and furloughs.

It is important for them to save time—miles—gasoline—rubber. They ask our Travel Bureau to help them to conserve—cut corners—avoid costly detours. The same consideration applies to commercial vehicles, bound on missions of war necessity.... This service is free.

The Cold Storage a Tragic Farce At Present

Grenada County spent a lot of money building a cold storage plant where Grenada county people could preserve perishable meats and vegetables.

Today, and for a good many months, Grenada county people have had to carry their meat and perishable stuff to Tallahatchie county to get it cold storage.

If there EVER was a time when every bit of perishable food SHOULD be preserved that day is today.

This building, designed for a cold storage plant, is being used for a warehouse for the sale of seed, feed and fertilizer—in competition with local and private capital.

I am happy to hear, and I hope it is true, that ere long the county board of supervisors is going to demand that the place be operated as a cold storage plant or closed up.

Nail These Lies!

"THE OLD AMERICA IS GONE!" THAT'S A LIE! ... the old America is not gone! ... the old America is fighting on forty fronts to prove she's not "old" but young! ... not "gone", but coming! ... not "all in," but all-out and HOW!

"AFTER THE WAR, IT'LL NEVER BE THE SAME!" THAT'S A LIE! ... it'll be the same only vastly better! ... because America will no longer be living in a fool's paradise, but respected and feared by nations that thought she was a pushover!

"WE'RE FIGHTING FOR ENGLAND AND RUSSIA!" THAT'S A LIE! ... we're not fighting for them and they're not fighting for us ... we just happen to be fighting for the same thing ... we're fighting for the right to fight those who question our right to live!

"WHEN IT'S OVER, WE'LL BE A DICTATORSHIP!" THAT'S A LIE! ... we don't have to fight to get a dictatorship ... we're fighting to avoid it ... and when it's all over, we'll still be a democracy and whoever says otherwise is a saboteur of the national spirit.

He who lies knowingly is a Traitor!

He who lies foolishly is a Menace!

He who listens without protest is an Accessory!

He who does something about it is an AMERICAN!

War Problem--Malaria

When the Japs attacked the Dutch East Indies, they struck directly, whether they knew it or not, at the people of the South. The South has malaria. The East Indies produce the quinine that is used in the prevention and cure of this disease.

Of the world's 300,000,000 inhabitants afflicted with malaria, 2,000,000 live in our Southern States. Of the world's yearly order of quinine, 95 percent was filled by the Dutch Indies. And now the Japs have taken over and shut off the supply.

We who live in the malaria regions are not thereby reduced to moaning helplessly. "They have taken away our land of quinine." While this nation is rationing its reserve stock wisely to wartime needs, we can get up and do battle with the mosquito that carries malaria. She—for the female Anopheles Quadrimaculatus carries this disease—may have laughed at the loss of the East Indies, but we don't have to accept her humor supinely. Our fighting men are battling the Japs for the restoration of Java and other points East. We can fight two malaria mosquitoes on our home territory.

There's reason enough for battle in the annual bill that this disease runs up on us. The United States has been allowing over $300,000,000 to go by in default each year to a family of mosquitoes in illness costs, loss of wages, and other economic waste.

In 1942 the malaria mosquito infected an additional 67,000 people with the disease in this country. Most of these new cases are in the South, and it is a sorry contribution we make to the nation, we must confess. The disease didn't strike all these 67,000 people dead. It is true. Nor paralyze them. Nor disfigure them. Malaria simply reduces the capacity of its victim for work and play. It gives them a feeling of perpetual tiredness. This disease is cutting daily on the work people are doing in the fields where the food to fight this war is raised, and in the factories where the machines to fight this war are made.

The South is paying host to thousands of young men in training. Some of the nation's largest mobilization areas are in the Southern States. Surely it would be a travesty of Southern hospitality and a waste of the South's war effort to allow the malaria mosquito to play the official greeter when these young men visit our communities. There's a danger in that female's greeting.

The Army, in proof of its success in controlling Madam "Quad" and malaria, can point to a nose-diving malaria rate among Army men since the early years of this century when control was first rigorously undertaken. What the Army has done, every community, every county, every state can do.

We are going to fight malaria in every war area. The United States Public Health Service accepts responsibility for leading the battle on malaria in this national crisis. But we must all fall in and help.

One hundred school teachers from thirteen Southern States and representatives from three South American countries have recently attended a two-weeks' course of lectures on malaria control at Memphis, Tennessee, sponsored by the Public Health Service. These people have now returned home to join forces with their local health departments. Mr. Eugene McGahay, of Gore Springs High School took this training in malaria control and is now working with the Grenada County Health Department. The health department has launched a campaign against Madam "Quad". Everyone is urged to enlist. The war on mosquitoes is everybody's war.

Your Cooperation Has Been Good

Up to and including last week, the GCW had an abundance of help and until now we have asked no special consideration of our readers, our advertisers and our job customers, for we have been able to proceed as we did in the piping times of peace. The picture has now changed. Mr. Greenfield has resigned and accepted another position and we have only one man, Mr. D. H. Horn, in the "back end." In short, we have become subject to conditions that practically all other businesses have been faced with for many months—shortness of help.

In the emergency, people have cheerfully toted their own groceries, have become accustomed to long delays in getting their laundry work, have forgotten all about the milk bottle on the porch at daylight, have accepted the bare crowded trains, buses and airplanes, and, in general, have fitted their lives to the drastic changes brought about by war conditions.

The GCW has NEVER failed to reach the subscriber in Grenada on time, and we do not expect to see it delivered late in the future, but it is now our turn to seek the cooperation of OUR friends. If Horn, the old lady and I hold out, the standards of the GCW will not be lowered, nor will the standards of our job printing be lowered.

In view of the changed conditions we, therefore, solicit you to help in the following ways:

1. Make the news items that you yourself write short and to the point and DO NOT wait until Thursday morning to get them in to the office. We can not handle ANYTHING but the most important stuff on Thursdays.

2. Notify us promptly of any change in your address.

3. Notice your expiration date on your own paper, and renew promptly, or notify us that you do not want the paper beyond the expiration date. This will save us sending out notices. You have a notice each and every week on that little notation, "S-43", "G-43", etc.

4. As we are not going to turn on our casting box—the contraption that makes cuts from mats—but once a week, and then Wednesday afternoon or night, ads requiring the use of mats MUST be "in" by Wednesday afternoon. This same rule applies to ALL ad copy, except occasionally we will take an easy-to-set ad early Thursday, but we reserve the right to pass judgment on that point, depending on the task that faces us Thursday.

5. Except under extraordinary circumstances, we can not deliver printed matter during the middle of the week. Most of our printing must be done on Fridays and Saturdays; some on Mondays. The job customer can, therefore, help by anticipating his needs and give us a little time; just as we have to wait patiently on laundry work, on express shipments, etc.

Your cooperation has been excellent and we solicit a continuance thereof.

Fortune Magazine Looks At The South

Some of the highlights of Fortune's study of Southern problems deserve quoting ... and deserve the attention of those who hold the best interests of the South close to heart.

What Fortune has to say about Negroes is particularly interesting. Of necessity we quote only isolated sentences, removed from context, so selected as to try to preserve the major idea in the magazine's article. "The Negro problem has a physiological basis that wealth alone cannot completely uproot. But little more can be done until the south achieves a fair degree of prosperity. Six million of the southeast's 17,000,000 people are Negroes. The fundamental fact to remember is that the Whites' attitude toward the Negro is not peculiar to the south—the attitude there is merely more intense and less conscious.

"Negroes are having a hard enough time getting economic opportunity. Nevertheless, the economic level of the Negro is being considerably bettered. Today's racial troubles are nothing besides what may well occur if Negroes and Whites must go back to their old economic status after the war. Postwar dispersion and displacement are bound to follow race lines. Unless more plans are made now, there will be few jobs, and Whites will probably hang onto most of them. And the Negro can hardly avoid interpreting the systematic displacement of his race by the Whites as a contradiction of everything he has been told the war was fought for."

Thus, greatly condensed, Fortune states the problem, offering toward its solution a continuance and further industrialization which will employ the south's manpower, Negro and White, on a higher prosperity level than before the war, if not at war's peak. Difficulties facing such a continuance are found in the fact that freight rates discriminate against the south as a manufacturing area; that high tariffs and retaliating import duties of other countries work against farm prosperity by excluding cotton from world markets; and, by no means last, the fact that from the financial angle, the south is a province of northern banking interests, and so treated.

"Another handicap is the north's almost complete financial control of the south. The south has been a victim of absentee ownership, southerners say, ever since the War between the States."

On the credit side of the ledger, here is part of what Fortune says: "The south has probably come further in the last 25 years than the rest of the nation. While other parts of the world were slipping into an orgy of visceral reactions, the south was developing a remarkable capacity for self-criticism and even some tolerance for ideas alien to its traditions. While totalitarianism was perfecting the art of legal lynching, the south was gradually abandoning illegal lynching."

Violent Assumption

In its leading editorial this week, the Sumner Sun—not which, according to ordinary interpretation of United States Postal laws, is flagrantly violating such laws by sending out tens of thousands of free copies to non-subscribers—quoted me as saying that Governor Johnson had—in spite of my lugubrious predictions—made a better than the average governor, and concluded that, since I spoke well of my friend Governor Johnson, it should necessarily follow that I should vote for Mr. Murphree who, according to the S. S., was a most important factor in the success of Governor Johnson's administration.

This logic does not appeal to me. I cannot forget those land deeds issued to bell hounds, chamber maids and other employees of a Jackson Hotel—with which Mr. Murphree was identified—one Saturday afternoon just as soon as the then governor, Mike Conner, crossed the Mississippi-Louisiana state line into the latter state.

The reason that prompted me to say what I truly thought of Governor Johnson was that I thought it nothing but fair to admit that the Judge HAD made a pretty good governor; then, too, he is a sick, tired man, about to retire to private life and I wanted to give him that "flower" while he could see it and sense its fragrance, for I have always liked Governor Johnson personally even though I did not support him four years ago.

No, no, count me out of the Murphree camp.

Lamar Chamberlain is now in Colorado Springs. He is certainly seeing the United States with the Air Corps.

The Ferdinand Club resumed meeting with seven present Monday night.

Staff Sergeant Ernest Smith, who has been home recently, has had his expiration date moved up 6 months. He is in the Air Corps in Texas.

Speaking of Pfc. we have another one who is being added this week, Pfc. Archie F. Watts of Camp Pickett, Va.

Help keep Horn out of devilment over the week end. Greenfield has gone into the cinema.

GOD CALLS A LEADER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 3:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.—Exodus 3:10.

God calls men, commissions, and uses them to carry out His plans and purposes in the earth. What a great truth that is, and how it glorifies the destiny of man to know that it is divinely appointed.

As Joseph Parker effectively points out, the experience of Moses in Midian was a direct dealing with God, whereas we who may not be able to "see the fountain" must "be content to drink at the stream," but should always remember that the stream flows from that same fountain.

"Every man should put to himself the question. What is my destiny? What does God mean me to be and to do in the world? . . . It is a most pitiable thing that a man should read of Moses being divinely called . . . to a special work" and fail to realize "that God has a special work for every man to do." Let us be careful that we do not "so pervert and misinterpret circumstances as to press them into a justification of self-will," rather than recognize them as "destiny which is beckoning us to duty."

For our instruction and guidance we consider, then, the story of the call of this outstanding leader of Israel. It presents him as a true servant of God, one who was—

I. Personally Equipped.

While it is a blessed truth that God will use any man who surrenders himself to His control and guidance, no matter how limited that man's ability and training may be, it is also true that, other things being equal, the man with the best equipment will be the most useful servant.

God gave Moses a unique preparation. He was first of all a Hebrew, born among the people that he was to lead. He knew the luxury and all the cultural advantages of the Egyptian court (Acts 7:22), with the safeguard of training by his own mother as his nurse.

He observed at first hand the oppression of his people, and made a self-willed and impulsive effort to deal with the problem. The result was that he had a "postgraduate" course of instruction and discipline in the wilderness, where he spent forty years in the school of experience.

We have learned anew from our war experience that training for service is essential. If that is true in military matters and in secular life, it is doubly true in the service of Christ. He does graciously use even the humble and untrained worker, but no one who has a vision of service will be content to remain unprepared.

II. Spiritually Qualified.

Moses was a man who knew God. Had he been a worldly man he would only have been curious regarding the phenomenon of the burning bush. But note how alert and reverent he was and how immediately responsive to the instructions and the call of God.

Here God's future leader was made conscious of the infinite majesty and holiness of God, the need of reverence and godly fear, the purpose of the Eternal One to deliver His people, and the assurance that He would be with His servant. Such a spiritual experience made effective the excellent preparation which he already had for service.

All the training and preparation in the world is worse than useless in God's service apart from that spiritual qualification that comes from true regeneration and dedication to Him.

There is no more pathetic sight than a spiritually powerless church worker going through the motions of service for Christ. If we are in that condition we may be sure that we deceive no one but ourselves.

III. Divinely Called.

Moses was called (v. 4), commissioned (vv. 6-10), and clad with divine authority (vv. 11, 12) for his great task.

God calls His servants to different responsibilities and in different ways, but the important thing is that we should know that we are in His will and that we are answering His call.

No one has any right to choose full-time Christian service simply as a desirable vocation. In any calling of life man needs God's guidance in order to make a proper choice, but in the ministry or missionary service it is an absolute essential.

If we were more careful to seek His will for every individual there would be less unhappiness in the world. But in the case of the one who goes out to speak for God there is not only the danger of distress, but of real disaster for himself and those to whom he tries to minister.

Prepared, qualified, and called, Moses is now ready to meet God before he goes on to his life of holy exploits for Him.

The TIRE of TOMORROW is here TODAY!

THE WORLD-FAMOUS FIRESTONE DeLuxe Champion TIRE IS NOW BEING MADE WITH Firestone Butaprene THE MARVELOUS New SYNTHETIC RUBBER

JUST as you'd expect, Firestone is FIRST to build the tire of tomorrow for the car owners of America. It is only natural that Firestone should be the leader in working out new processes, in creating new compounds and in building better tires from American-made rubber, for Firestone has always been the pioneer in developing new materials, new methods and new machines that have resulted in tremendous advancements in tire design, construction and performance.

From Firestone have come such revolutionary improvements as the FIRST straight side tire, the FIRST rubber non-skid tread, the FIRST commercial demountable rim, the FIRST patented Gum-Dipping Process, the FIRST balloon tire, the FIRST Safe-Lock Cord Body, the FIRST Super-Speed Construction and the FIRST practical pneumatic tractor tire.

In 1933, Firestone built the FIRST synthetic rubber airplane tires for our armed forces. In 1940, Firestone built its FIRST synthetic rubber passenger car tires at the New York World's Fair and began the manufacture of its own synthetic rubber, called Butaprene, the same type that was later adopted by the Government. In 1942, Firestone became the FIRST company to produce synthetic rubber in a Government-owned plant and later became the FIRST to make synthetic rubber using butadiene made from grain alcohol. And today Firestone is making synthetic rubber tires for passenger cars, trucks, buses, airplanes, tractors, farm implements and all types of war vehicles.

All of these years of experience, all of the knowledge that made these FIRSTS possible have been called upon in producing the new Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tire made with Firestone Butaprene. It is now ready for the car owners of America as released by the Government. But do not think that the crisis is past. America's greatest rubber supply is still on the wheels of its 27,000,000 cars. So you must continue all of the rubber conservation measures that have been so effective. However, if you are eligible and require new tires, remember this—in mileage, in strength and in safety the new Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tire upholds the Firestone tradition of "Best in Rubber—Synthetic or Natural."

Listen to the Voice of Firestone with Richard Crooks and the Firestone Symphony Orchestra, under direction of Alfred Wallenstein, Monday evenings, over N. B. C.

What Dew'll Do

As I stood at my chamber window
In the vast Decatur Jail
Quoting a verse of "Nevermore"
And musing how humans fail,
I spied a wretched tumblebug,
Limp in between the bars,
A tumblebug with a foot in the grave,
Cowed by life's jolts and jars.
So I seized my flask of moonshine,
Tilted a drop on the sill,
And drank a toast to his bugship's health,
Myself with a right good will.
These are the simple facts in the case,
And I guess I ought to know;
Some say I was crazy with adventure
And I'm not denying it's so,
I'm not so wise as these lawyer guys,
But strictly between us two,
I saw this worthy tumblebug,
Slip his drink of mountain dew;
He sipped his drink of Georgia Corn
And cast a roving eye
To where in the hazy distance
We could see Stone Mountain lie;
He cocked his head, spit on his hands
And then I heard him say,
"Big boy, you've been there a long long time
But you're going to roll away."

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.
When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all ways out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste.

met. He's really worth driving out to see, even if you have to submit to the rigid life-history quiz at the gate. By the time you're finally allowed to drive yourself past the Corporal at the gate, you feel that you'll be able to bluff your way straight by old St. Peter later on.

Yes, it's a lot easier to slip into Camp McCain. While there, you ought to take a sneak peep into Col. Ira Ryd-er's office, which certainly is lovely now, spacious, cool, and militarily decorated with huge maps of the War
Areas of the World.

We slipped up a little on the promotion headlines while away. 1st Lt.
Grimes, Adjutant in the Station Complement, has for three weeks been Capt. Grimes. He's also doing quite well on the home front in Grenada.
Last Wednesday night we saw him at the Terrace Dance at the Officers' Club with Sue Proby.

And while there we also saw Lt.
Col. Connant, the Quiz Kid who's thought was too young to be a Lieutenant. Now they've added Colonel on to it! He's a fine officer, though, and we want him to know that this Quiz kidding is good natured.

Also at the same dance, we met young Capt. Emmons and his new bride from Wisconsin. They're charming people.

Capt. Butcher and his wife, now of Winona, were lamenting the bad luck that follows the good Captain around.
This night his wife ran in the ditch and beat up the car quite badly, but with no damage to her, fortunately.

A couple of Lieutenants' wives just came in looking for rooms again. Alone the only places where rooms are certain are back in their own home towns, now. It's a desperate situation.

The Library is open Thursdays from 12 to 6 p. m. the same as usual. The discussion group meets on Thursday nights at 8 p. m. The subject for this week will be "Machines in the war and after."

There have been two valuable gifts presented to the library recently. Alfred I. DuPont by James was given by Mrs. DuPont. John D. Rockefeller by
Nevins was sent from the publishers Scribners. Both the biographies are now available to the public.

Nine young aviators have completed the "Round the World Book-flight" and have received a war stamp. They are: Rosie Messina, Betty Martin, Wallace Serwood, Jr., Dorothy Liles, Marianne Bailey, Frances Miles, Barbara Brown, Rene Taylor, and Marie Turnage. There are 73 more planes enroute.

The Victory Book Campaign is turning over to Camp McCain 50 books, which we understand will be placed in the convalescent ward of the hospital.
They are very badly needed and many more could be used.

Aint they sweet.

DENNIS MURPHREE

WILL BE ELECTED

GOVERNOR

Because:

The people recognize that his 25 years of faithful public service, three times as Legislator and three times as Lieutenant Governor, make Murphree the best qualified man in the race for Governor.

Murphree's platform and speeches appeal to the people as being the soundest, most sincere, progressive and statesmanlike.

Murphree's record for getting things done gives assurance that the far-reaching and constructive things he advocates will be accomplished.

The people realize that Murphree will give them the cautious, alert and courageous leadership that the war and post-war periods demand. He will cooperate with President Roosevelt, the Commander-in-Chief, with Congress and all the agencies of the Federal and State governments.

Murphree knows how, and will work in harmony with the Legislature, and with other State Officials. He will seek the counsel of Farm and Business leaders.

Murphree will be a Democratic Governor of a Democratic people. His inborn ideas, ideals and courage will enable him to lead Mississippi through perilous days, come what may. Murphree can be depended upon to lead a delegation of genuine Mississippi Democrats to the National Convention in 1944.

During his three terms as Lieutenant Governor, Murphree loyally supported each of the three Governors in all measures in the interests of the people. When he saw that the people's rights were about to be abused, he did not hesitate to put up a fight.

Murphree has made good. He has proven that his thinking is sound; that he is big of heart, practical in political strategy, courageous in action and in every way qualified to be Governor.

Murphree justly deserves promotion and an appreciative people will promote him to the Governorship in August.

CONGRESS OVERRIDES VETO ON ANTI-STRIKE BILL

By Congressman Thos. G. Abernethy
Fourth Mississippi District

With speed unequalled in Congressional history, the Congress overrode the President's veto of the Connally-Smith Anti-Strike Bill. The Senate vote was 56 to 28, the House, 244 to 108. Every member of the Mississippi Delegation voted to override.

As the roll call began the House and galleries were in complete silence. Only the calls of the House Clerk and responsive yeas and nays were audible. Everyone realized a momentous occasion was at hand. Truly, a tense moment it was.

On completion of the call, a resounding cheer went up from soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians in the gallery. Even the solons joined in the cheering.

The vote was the answer of your Congress to the threats of some of labor's leaders to "vote out of office every member who supports" the bill. It was the answer of a Congress who refused to be cajoled, bluffed, browbeaten, or bulldozed. We—yes, every American—have a war to fight. That equally applies to John L. Lewis. Now let him get down to the job.

DRAFT

Rules were changed to provide that replacement schedules filed by employers after July 1st must arrange for release within six months of occupation ally deferred non-fathers between 18 and 27. Expected are men whose jobs are very important and extremely difficult to fill. Officials hinted that this and other developments will delay the draft of fathers at least until October 1, two months later than expected.

MAIL FOR SERVICE MEN

The War and Post Office Department joined in giving early advice about Christmas mail for men overseas. From September 15 to October 15, packages marked "Christmas Gift Parcel" may be mailed to soldiers overseas without a request from the soldier. Gifts for sailors must be mailed between the dates of September 15 and November 1.

CORN SHORTAGE

Stocks of corn in 96 Midwestern terminal elevators were requisitioned by the War Food Administration in a move to secure supplies for processors of corn foods, feed and industrial products essential to the war.

COST OF LIVING

City workers now pay 24.1 percent more for cost-of-living items than they did in January, 1941, reported the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Food prices showed the sharpest rise, averaging 46 percent above the 1941 level. Cost of services, especially medical care, barber and beauty shop treatments, showed the next highest increases.

Here's Word from Bill!

"...and tell my old gang down at the Telephone Company that I'm thinking of them. I see tons of telephone materials every day over here—in the form of tanks, shells and field communications equipment. We need a steady stream of these supplies to win—and being a telephone man, I know that telephone lines have to carry many calls affecting production and transportation of fighting equipment. So I hope you homefolks are helping to keep the wires clear, for war calls which MUST go through. Love,

BILL

Fellows like Bill Jones—on the fighting front—know what they're talking about when they say that Victory depends upon an unceasing flow of supplies. And at home, those directing the war effort rely on the telephone to keep munitions and men moving forward.

These urgent calls pass through the same local telephone equipment you use. Yet facilities can't be expanded to meet demands fully, because the necessary materials are being made into planes, tanks and guns.

By avoiding unnecessary local calls—and by speaking briefly whenever you talk—you help relieve crowded lines and switchboards for war duty. In that way you help speed vital war calls.

Barnum Was Right

Dear Mr. Whit:

I am so mixed up, I sometimes back in a door instead of walking in face first. I've been hearing a lot about subsidies and roll backs and hold the line and lower cost of living until I'm in a daze—on account of chewing gum being so scarce, I'm thinking of taking a day off and going out to the woods and find a sweet gum tree and pick a mouth full of sweet gum to chew on like we did when we were boys and couldn't get store-bought gum.

Bull With a Ring In The Nose

I did not know we had any money trees in this country and always figured that when appropriations were made to pay subsidies that it was like putting a ring in a bull's nose. We got him from now on and he pays thru the nose. Of course it sounds so soothing and it's a sweet smelling salve when first applied but the longer the application stays on, the worse it gets to be.

If I Find One, I'll Let You Know

Yes! If I find a sweet gum tree, I'll let you know because us heavy thinkers have to either be smoking or chewing and as we are going to have to cut down on tobacco to save up money for tax subsidies, we'll have to chew mother nature's chewing gum.

Let Me Know If I'm Wrong

Please let me know if I'm too mixed up to do heavy thinking, because any one is liable to be wrong once. The reason I'm seeking information from you Mr. Whit, is due to the fact that you are a pretty good shot and you usually hit the bull's eye
